

Western Pennsylvania Mathematics Teaching and Learning Conference

OCTOBER 14th, 2023

9:00-3:30 pm at Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Join us and our keynote speaker Linda Gojak past National Council of Teachers of Mathematics president, for a one-day conference that aims provide top-notch mathematics learning opportunities for elementary, middle, and secondary pre-service and in-service teachers. Throughout the day, attendees will select from multiple sessions related to mathematics instruction at all levels. Breakout sessions will feature presentations by classroom teachers and by education professionals, and a poster session specifically designed to showcase mathematics learning by pre-service teachers. Our conference is sponsored by IUP's Department of Mathematical and Computer Sciences, Pennsylvania Council of Teachers of Mathematics (PCTM), Pennsylvania Association of Mathematics Teacher Educators (PAMTE) and Laurel Highlands Mathematics Alliance (LHMA).

Cost

$20 Pre-service teacher registration

$30 Classroom Teacher/College Instructor registration

Registration includes:

- One-year membership to PCTM
- Continental breakfast, lunch, afternoon snack
- Giveaway prizes

Exchange teaching ideas, experiences, and practices!

Network with other practicing and pre-service teachers from across the state!

Enhance your professional mathematics teaching career!

Attend a keynote and breakout sessions geared toward your interests!

Choose to participate in a poster session!

Register online by October 1, 2023 using the QR code or at <https://tinyurl.com/y5bxtafh>

For more information, contact
Valerie Long at vlong@iup.edu